TO THE TRAVELING PUBLIC:

For the 1926 season of transatlantic travel we have arranged for the convenience of American travelers 226 sailings from the ports of New York, Boston, Montreal and Quebec. Our great fleet of ships under the house flags of the White Star, Red Star and Atlantic Transport Lines will have a combined capacity to carry to and from Europe, approximately 500,000 passengers.

From the world's largest ship Majestic to the popular tourist liner Minnekahda, these famous ships of the International Mercantile Marine Lines offer a wide variety of accommodations, some of notable luxury, but all of acknowledged comfort -- and there is a rate to fit every vacation purse. A detailed statement of our sailing arrangements for the season will be published in this newspaper tomorrow. I invite you to examine it.

A Devout Churchman.

Except for this incident, and for certain agility with which he disposed of his traction holdings before their value suffered a slump, there was little or nothing in those years to shake confidence in Carleton's business integrity. In his religious professions, he set a high standard for himself, but the belief of his friends, in and outside the church, was that he lived up to that standard.

From the day of his arrival in St. Louis-a steamboat had landed him on the Levee on a Sunday morning-Carleton attended Centenary Methodist Church. He became the leading layman of the historic downtown congregation, and though he removed to the West End, and lived for several years in St. Louis County, he was a regular attendant at the Sunday morning services, and usually at-tended, and took a leading part in, the midweek prayer meetings. He was long superintendent of the Sunday school. He was devoted to the Democratic party hardly less than to the church. He was able to say, in a controversy with Senator Reed, that he had never voted any other than'the Democratic ticket, though he did not say that he had voted for Bryan in 1896. In some year. he was the largest giver to the party's campaign fund here, and in the campaigns of Rolla Wells for Mayor and David R. Francis for the Senate, he was both a contributor and a personally active worker. The only public office he ever held was, in recent years, that f member of the State Highway

. A User of Street Cars.

Carleton's gifts to religious and haritable objects were large. His personal life, in some ways, was frugal. He did not own an automobile until very recent years, and until illness and infirmity came upon him he habitually used treet cars or in good weather walked to his work. In going to the Log Cabin Club he would use a street car or a friend's automo-

He was president of the Log Cabin Club, and at the Noonday Club, where he ate lunch almost daily, a table was reserved for him and a close friend.

His prominence as a Methodist of the southern wing of the church caused him to be named by Bishop Hendrix as one of the trustees of the Barnes Hospital fund. This fund accumulated for more than 0 years, in the trustees' care, and ncreased from $950,000 to $2,150. 000 befor the completion of the present institution in 1914.

The Dry Goods Business.

The Carleton Dry Goods Co., as one of the big Washington avenue wholesale concerns, maintained what was considered a policy of conservatism. It seemed a natural process of expansion when the Carleton concern absorbed a competitor, the Ferguson-McKinney Dry Goods Co., and when the latter concern was changed into a manufacturing rather than a merchandising company.

But Carleton did not succeed in handling two businesses as well as he handled one, and the two con cerns alternately got into difficul

Slender Figures

Are seen everywhere today

People get them in this easy, pleasant way

how slenderness prevails Excess fat is not one-tenth so common as it was. Look at any fashion pictures. Note how every style is now adapted to slim figures. The very vogue of short skirts shows that overweight is re-garded the exception.

A new era has come in this respect. Fat is now unpopular. It is regarded as abnormal, affecting beauty, health and fitness. Modern research has proved it unnecessary. There is now an easy, pleasant way to control one's Countless people have learned that way and proved it. They have told others about it. In every company you can now see the evidence of its efficiency.

The Modern Method

The Modern Method

The modern method is internal. It combats the cause of excess fat, which usually lies in a certain gland.

That method is embodled in Marmola Prescription Tablets. Simply take four a day. Continue until you reach the weight you wish.

Reduction is not too rapid. It rarely exceeds a pound a day. So the body adjusts itself to the new conditions. Wrinkles do not develop.

Marmola is not secret. Our books publish every ingredient, and explain except how Marmola acts. You will know the scientific reasons for results.

The results are so dependable that to everyone who mails the coupon we now sens a guarantee. If you accept it, and then are not satisfied, every penny you pay is returned.

Elaine Von der Lippe-Lipske Alleged to Have Disavowed Parent.

NEW YORK, March 2.-Princess Elaine von der Lippe-Lipski today is defendant in a $100,000 slander because she has disavowed Mrs. Lillian Agnes Stover as her mother. Two years ago the American-born Princess was awarded a verdict of $100,000 against her half-sister for alienation of the af-fections of Prince Nicholas Vladimir Lippe-Lipski. Mrs. Stover testified in the trial which began yesterday that Priness Elaine, formerly known as Mrs. Sarah Ellen Phillips, denied in a newspaper interview in Octo-ber, 1921, that Mrs. Stover was her nother. The Princess declared. Mrs. Stover alleges, that her real nother died when she was 2 years teeth seldom are naturally off color and dull. Cloudy teeth now are restored to sparkling clearness. Gums firmed to healthy coral tint.

DENTAL science thousands of people have learned, that

A new way has been found. One's whole appearance thus is often changed. Clear teeth make a tremendous difference in your smile. Foremost dentists urge this method. Scores of movies' $100,000 a year smiles are made to glisten so alluringly in this simple way.

May we send you a full 10-day tube to try? Your teeth, you'll find, are not permanently off color, simply clouded with a dingy film ordinary dentifrices fail to clear off successfully.

What film is-Dulls teeth, invites gum disorders

Dental science now traces scores of tooth and gum troubles to a germ-laden film that forms on teeth. Run your tongue across your teeth and you will feel it - a slippery, viscous coating.

That film absorbs discolorations from food,

Flow the worst enemy to teeth You can feel it with your tongue smoking, etc. And that is why your teeth look "off color" and dingy-dull and unattractive.

It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. It lays your gums open to bacterial attack. Germs breed in it. And they, with tartar, are a chief cause of pyorrhea and decay.

Old ways won't clear it off

Ordinary dentifrices and cleansing won't fight film successfully. Feel for it now with your tongue. Note how your present cleansing method is failing in its duty.

Now new methods are being used. A dentifrice called Pepsodent-different in formula, action and effect from any other known.

Largely on dental advice, the world has turned to this method.

Clears film off Firms the Gums

It accomplishes two important things at once Removes that film, then firms the gums.

A few days' use will prove its power beyond all doubt. Send the coupon. Clip it now before you forget and mail at once.

Address Only one tube to a family.

Some of the present day champions of the manly art of selfdefense adhere to the conviction that it is bad business to tour the country meeting the best men available at something less than the money that Tex Rickard pays at Madison Square Garden. The danger, of course, is that out at the cross-roads there might pop up a mightier slugger and then the champion would have to go to work that Charley Rosenberg, upon whose brow rests the bantamweight crown, is not one of the numerous safety-first champions. Charley and his manager say that he is ready to swap punches with anybody the promoters will sign up. He is proving it tonight at the New Coliseum for he is stepping into he ring with George Butch, a rough, tough, experienced scrapper. Charley believes he is one champion who can do this sort of thing can-but then, there is Butch to be heard from.

Rosenberg is at his best. So, too, is Butch. The champion came to St. Louis a week in advance of the bout to prove by actual work in the gymnasium that he would e ring fit for a rousing battle. The bout is scheduled to

How to Talk

Article No. 5

One of the most common errors in our language is the mispronunciation of the word "height." Listen in on almost any conversation where that word is used-that is, where any degree of education high or low, is represented-and about nine times out of ten you hear "height" mispronounced.

How does it happen? I don't know. I've been watching it for years, and I've given up.

The one and only correct way to pronounce the word "height" is "hite"; but invariably it is mispronounced with a "th" at the end, the same as "width."

The word in itself is simple enough, and there is no excuse for trying to make another word of it. Nobody ever mispronounces such words as "light," "flight," "right," and "might." All of these words end in "ht," as do many similar words. I never have heard anybody say "lighth," "flighth," or "righth," but most of them do say

It is well to watch the "th" in such words as "length," "breadth," and others ending in "th." Many are likely to slight the full pronunciation of the "th," some saying "lengt," "dept," etc., and yet those same people will give stress to "th" at the end of "height," where it doesn't belong.

Don't be shy in correcting such mis-takes when you hear your friends make them. Of course you'll be care-ful not to offend. Make it a practice to watch yourself, as well as your friends, for errors in speaking and

Musicale EVEREADY HOUR

at 8 P. M. (Central Standard Time)

Tonight Dear Listeners: Don't let that "litera-musicale" title influence you. Not so heavy as it sounds. You'll remember, several months ago, the "Evange-line" and "Ancient Mariner" programs. In those, we used long poems with music. Tonight we do the same thing, but with short excerpts from many works of verse and prose. Including Kipling's "Boots."

CROSS WORD PUZZLE

Every number in the form represents the beginning of a word reading either horizontally or vertically. If there is a black square to the left of the number, the word is horizontal; if above it, the word is vertical. The same number may, of course, begin both a horizontal and a vertical. The definitions for the correct words to fill the form and found below, with numbers corresponding to those on the form, Run through the definitions till you find one that you recognize, and put it in its proper place on the form, one letter for each white equare. This will furnish several cross-clews to the words linking with it at right angles. Continue in this manner till the form is completely filled. If you have solved the puzzle correctly it should read both horizontally and vertically with words corresponding to the defi-HORIZONTAL. H. A priest's gar 36 To contend nioni.

Choose your "B" batteries correctly

THE life of your "B" batteries depends on their size in relation to your set and on how long you listen in each day. Here are the simple rules which tell the right size "B" battery to use:

On 1 to 3 tubes-Use Eveready No. 772. On 4 or more tubes-Use the Heavy Duty "B" Batteries, either No. 770, or the even longer-lived Eveready Layerbilt No. 486. On all but single tube sets-Use a "C" battery.

When these rules are followed, the No. 772 will last for a year or more, and the Heavy Duties for eight months or onger, when listening at the year-round average of two hours a day.

NOTE: An Eveready "C" Battery not only increases the life of the "B" batteries, but adds a quality of reproduction unobtainable without it. Manufactured and guaranteed by NATIONAL CARBON CO., INC., New York-San Francisco Interest navable February 1 and Angust 1. Principal and interest navable in New York City in Tining Speyer & Co., Fiscal Agents for the Loan.

Coupon Bonds in denominations of $1,000 and $500, registerable as to principal.

Annual Cumulative Sinking Fund payments, beginning October 1, 1927, sufficient to redeem the entire issue at or before maturity, to be applied to redemption of Bonds by purchase in the market at or below par and accrued interest, or, if not so obtainable, through drawings by lot for payment at par and accrued interest on February 1 of each year beginning in 1928. In lieu of cash payments the City may tender Bonds at par.

The City reserves the right to call for redemption, upon not less than six weeks notice, on February 1, 1931, or any interest date thereafter, all or any part of the Bonds then outstanding, at 102% and accrued interest up to and including August 1, 1935 and thereafter at par and accrued interest.

The Bonds are issued with the approval of the German and Saxon Governmental authorities. The City covenants that, if in the future it shall issue any loan secured by a lien on any of its revenues or assets, these Bonds shall be secured equally and ratably with such loan. Leipzig is the largest city of the Free State of Saxony, ranks fifth in population among the cities of Germany and is one of its most important industrial and commercial centers.

FINANCIAL STATE MENT (as officially reported, partly by cable)

Value of municipally owned property (estimated) ...... 57,200,000 Taxable income of inhabitants 1924 . ..... 170,000,000 Population ....

The proceeds of the Loan will be used for additions and betterments to the City's electric light and power plants and gas works, which should add substantially to its revenues. These $5,000,000 Bonds are the only external debt of the City. The internal debt, other than about $1,200,000 secured by mortgages on real estate owned by the City, consists of obligations heretofore incurred in the former currency of Germany, the total liability for which (under the terms of the Law of the German Republic of July 16, 1925 for the revaluation of public obligations), it is estimated, will not exceed $21,100,000. The property of the City and its revenues from taxes are not subject to any charges for reparation payments under the Dawes Plan. Certain municipal enterprises are by law required to make unsecured annual payments in place of secured yearly payments imposed under the Dawes Plan on similar private industrial undertakings. Payments in respect of Leipzig's municipally owned utilities for this purpose are estimated at not to exceed $13,000 per annum.

All conversions from German to United States currency have been made at par of exchange (420 Reichsmarks to the Dollar). Application will be made to list these Bonds on the New York Stock Exchange.

CITIES OFPROGRESS -Gleveland Che STRAUS HALLMARK on a bond stamps it at once as the premier real estate security The Flats and Superior Mt. Hill in 1840

Straus Financing in Cleveland

CLOSE to the spot where the backwoods surveyor, Moses Cleaveland, first unlimbered transit and level and drove the stob locating the full mile-square townsite he named for himself, land now sells for $20,000 a front foot. Of such is the romance of Cleveland built-a romance founded not on the shifting sands of speculation or boom, but firmly rooted in the steady advancement of passing years.

Sprung from the imagination of a pioneer, Cleveland has made herself the principal ore market of the world, master craftsman in fashioning the products of iron and steel, fifth city of these United States, yet with tree-lined streets, civic structures and homes such as to receive, and merit, title as one of the most beautiful cities of America.

Cleveland has long since won her place as a city of progress, and in the winning thereof, S.W. STRAUS & Co. has had a not unimportant part. In Cleveland, as in other great cities, the Straus Organization has applied the knowledge and experience drawn from long years of specialized effort to select, as security for first mortgage real estate bond issues, those strategic locations where sound values and assured earning power afford a safe and profitable basis for investment. Such structures as Fenway Hall Apartments, the Sovereign, National Building, Superior Park Apartments, Edgecliff Manor, Kenilworth-Overlook and Laurel Hall Apartments, pictured above, are not alone evidence of Cleveland's progress, but as well symbols of safe investment in the Straus Bonds secured by them.

We have written a book—calling it simply, "44 Years Without Loss to Any Investor"-telling the story of Straus Bonds. You can secure a copy without charge. Let us send it to you. Ask for

Mysterious Sweetheart Ella Wister Haine

What has gone before: Carolita Menendez, a beautiful young Spanish girl, brought up in traveling alone to Los Angeles at whom she has never seen. During had. Chicago and Los Angeles she wakes clutching the curtains of the berth opposite, a white hand wearing a gorgeous ruby. In the morning she learns that a man has been found in one of the berths, apparently murdered. Paul Reynolds, a young New York lawyer who became acclaims the strange ruby ring, when it is found on the floor, in order to protect Carolita, because he fears it belongs to her. But when he at-tempts to return it to the girl she declares it is not hers, and later he perceives that the ruby is half of a heart suggesting that there must be a companion ring. Reynolds admits acquaintance with a Mr. and Mrs. Brown who left the train late in the evening after being seen in conversation with the dead man. It is then learned that the so-called Mr. Brown is really Walter Reynolds, brother of Paul Reynolds, although they had not met in ten years due to a family quarrel. Walter and his father had quarreled many years before about the father's second wife. Frank Hyatt, the Los Angeles attorney for the Reynolds firm, boards the train in answer to a wire and re-Walter, Reynolds' brother, has notified the firm he has an important clue concerning their father's will about which there is some mystery. # Flared Skirts and Straight Line Frocks With Pleats Are Featured in Great Variety

By MARGUERITE MARTYN.

ASTING about to see what the shops are holding in store with which to greet the spring trade in hats and gowns, I was especially with the variety the silhouette which is offered. here are many skirts flared by means of the circular cut or insert godets, and many straight line frocks with kick pleats, and it may be these will prove most popular in the long run, but a valiant effort, at least, is being made to vary these contours. This fact will noted in the accompanying sketches sketched all in one costume depart-

There is the wide, billowing taffeta skirt cut circular and gathered onto a close-fitting bodice and somewhat the same style but with the waist and hem line raised toward the front. There is the finely box-pleated effect with the pleats stitched down half way to the knees and there are skirts adorned with circular ruffles. There was one tucked in and attached to an underskirt that was decidedly reminiscent of the hobble skirt of never very lamented memory.

The upstanding collar also is one among many other variations of the closed neck that is of the new season. A Victorian Model

The last frock sketched is of black taffeta, sleeveless but having closing in a long V in front. It is a quaint model, Victorian in spirit, with its bow knot of black velvet ribbon, and its full skirt made to seem longer by means f its wide tulle border. The skirt opens down the front over a petticoat of flesh colored lace trimmed chiffon. Bordering the chimesett of flesh color, the opening of the skirt and where the taffeta joins the tulle, is a scalloped passiamentary of crystal beads.

Everything is very trimmed, the salespeople tell us, in contrast to last year when so much of the ornamentation depended upon the printed patterns of the fabrics themselves. There are many prints in evidence at this time, too, though most frequently they are combined with plain materials.

The small simply trimmed hat has been the despair of the milliners, but even they speak ruefully of the failure of efforts to supplant it with the wide brimmed chapeau Women would not have the wide brim so long as they wore high fur collars and with hair still bobbed the large hat that requires a hat pin simply will not do for general wear. There are variations from the cloche and the gigola, however, the turban without any brim and the square crowned shaped bonnet which Reboux the inventor of the gigola is sponsoring. wide head band also appears among the new models. Balibuntle, bangkok, pearl visca and crocheted straw are the popular braids, and the trimming, perfectly flat for the most part is frequently of grosgrain ribbon applied in some ingenious

One wide brimmed hat of crin with a tight-fitting crown of velvet stitched in a quilted pattern and no other trimming save a jeweled pin as sketched on the figure farthest left in my picture, was very smart. For dressy occasions there will always be the large picture hat and as the sun grows more armany wide hats of the garden variety will, as usual, make their appearance, but they must have a tight-fitting crown if the head is bobbed. And for sports and general wear, all the commercially inspired rumors to the contrary, not-withstanding the small close-fitting bonnet undoubtedly remains in its motif and jeweled pins.
